Institutional Profitability Brought to the Individual Investor™

Why Life Settlements Make A Great Investment Option?

We believe investors should expect double digit returns.

There has been a lot of news lately about investors' 401(k)s losing value. IRAs are earning minimum yields, and so are their bonds. This makes Retirement a tough goal to meet.

The London School of Business conducted an 11 year study from 2001 to 2011. It found that over that period, investors in Life Settlements received an average of 12.5% annual return over the course of the study, with a high of 18%.

Volatility destroys dreams.

Have you forgotten the global meltdown of 2008? Have you recovered fully? Has the U.S. economy recovered? Unfortunately, for most average investors the answers to these questions are not what they had hoped. Despite the stock market running up to new highs most investors have not participated in the entire gains. Experts agree that investors taper their expectations in traditional markets moving forward, and many believe that there will be another bubble which will be even worse than 2008.

You need to protect yourself with a safe investment. Life Settlements have NO correlation to stocks and global markets, and the payouts come from some of the most financially secure companies in the world.

We believe the smart money diversifies.

Did you know that in July 2013 Warren Buffett's Berkshire Hathaway invested $300 million in face value of Life Settlement Policies, or that the Apollo Group purchased $600 million in August 2013? It's true. These announcements are not made to the general public in a press release. This information comes from industry insiders privy to the information. Why is that?

Life Settlements are typically referred to as the “best kept secret on Wall Street.” Not only Warren Buffett, but many other large financial institutions (Credit Suisse, Deutsche Bank, AIG, Goldman Sachs and many more) have been investing in this asset class for decades. Invest with the smart money!
